What's different about UBS key4 mortgages?

For you as a borrower, the processes change little compared with conventional UBS mortgage loans. The details are listed in the framework mandate agreement, that needs to be signed. Here are some of the points:

Disclosure

Your details are passed on to a limited group of investors (e.g. Swiss pension funds). However, data is only provided to investors affiliated with the platform after they've expressed their interest in providing you with financing on the basis of an anonymous credit inquiry. Data confidentiality is subject to a restrictive agreement which the investor must sign.

Timing

As soon as your financing request is on the platform, you'll receive multiple offers from the investors after three working days. You then have a further three working days to make your decision.

Contract

You will conclude your loan agreement directly with the investor whose offer you choose. All lenders are subject to the same contractual terms and conditions stipulated by UBS.

Possible adjustments
